

Democratic State Ticket

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals

THOS. J. HENRY,

OF MORGAN COUNTY.

FOR COUNTY JAILER,

AQUILLA B. LONG.

The Sebree Sunbeam is little but she is loud in her advocacy of Christian county's favorite son for Congress.

The opposition to Capt. Henry has narrowed down to the Louisville

Commercial and a few of its Democratic satellites.

There are lots of good things in the Elizabethtown News but they should be classified so one would know where to look for them.

Mr. A. T. Wimberley, proprietor of the Cadiz Telephone, was married

last Thursday to Miss Lula Grady,

of Edyville, Lyon county. May they live long and "be happy."

Five candidates for Superior

Judge are announced in this, the Western district. McCracken, Logan,

Davies and Henderson are the counties offering candidates. There are thirty-five counties in the District.

It is reported that Senator Hill has sent his resignation to the Governor of Georgia and that Senator Brown,

of the same state, also contemplates resigning. Both of them are in bad health. It is likely that ex-Senator

Jordan will be appointed to one of the vacancies.

The Hartford Herald calls upon

Hon. E. Dudley, Walker of Hartford,

to make the race for Congress in the Fourth District. Col. Walker is a sound Democrat, an able lawyer and a courteous gentleman and would make the District an excellent

Congressman.

The Horse Shoe is the name of a new paper just started at Hot Springs,

Ark. It is a six column octavo and contains a lot of news and features of both a newspaper and a literary paper and we trust "good luck" may characterize its career.

Capt. Henry and Col. Jacob, candidates

for Clerk of the Court of Appeals,

met in debate at Mt. Sterling last week. Capt. Henry, while not an orator, proved very conclusively that he is abundantly able to take care of himself and his array of facts,

and in a plain matter-of-fact way,

caused Jacob to come out second best in the discussion.

The Indian war in Arizona is about

over now and a careful summary

shows that 141 whites and Mexicans and 500 head of stock were killed and $75,000 of property destroyed before the handful of redskins were conquered. About 100 Indians were killed and some captured while a part of them escaped over the border into Mexico and are still hiding in the hills and cañons. Most of the hostile band were annihilated.

We publish to-day a part of Mr.

McKenzie's great speech on the tariff.

The balance will be published next week and we would advise all of our readers to read it both instructive and entertaining. The National Democratic Committee has had 10,000 copies of the speech printed for distribution and the Courier-Journal and other dailies published it as a supplement.

Ex-Postmaster General Horace

Maynard, of Tennessee, dropped dead

at Knoxville last Wednesday, of heart disease, in the 66th year of his age. He had served several terms in Congress, been Minister to Turkey

and was Postmaster General under

Hayes' administration. He was one of the most prominent Republicans in NONSENSE.

The Courier-Journal has $500,000

worth of libel suits on its hands

Such is false.

Dan O'Sullivan's Russellville letter

got the Courier-Journal in a pretty hot libel suit. The libel of it is $50,000.

Since it is becoming the style to send millionaires internal machines

through the mails, country editors

may well tremble in their boots.

A new ordinance prohibits hogs

from running at large in Owensboro and if Urey Wolcott attempts to put up any more jobs on us we will make the wilying remark that he had better be shy of the pound.

Henderson county with her usual modesty has only two candidates for Superior Judge. The rest of her great men are patiently waiting to be struck by Congressional lightning.

A skunk was killed on Main St. in Louisville last week while making its way to the Commercial office. It was thought from the amount of filth that has been in that paper's columns recently, that its services as a disinfectant were needed about the office.

Jas. Levissey and J. C. Egan Jr.,

fought a Parisian duel in New Orleans

last week with pistols. Of course neither of them was hurt.

The trouble was about an article in a newspaper reflecting on Egan's

father.

A. B. Long.

The Democratic party has, as yet,

no county ticket. Indeed

it seems that the party lacks organization as much as it does voters. It is not likely that a ticket will be nominated. Last week a committee of representative Democrats, appointed by the County Committee, met and recommended Aquilla B. Long, for jailer, the three candidates for the office having agreed to let their claims be settled in that way. Further than this no action has been taken. As

Mr. Long has been endorsed by the constituted head of the party in the county, we to-day place his name at the head of our columns and will support him for jailer. He is a man in every way worthy of being elected to the office. He has served one term and we doubt if the county has ever had a better jailer. He is opposed by Wyatt Watt, colored, and we call upon the people of Christian county,

irrespective of politics, or party

affiliations, to choose between them.

Choose a man of character, integrity and experience, a man who has made a faithful, efficient officer. Watt stated repeatedly on the stump that his sole object was to get the money

in the office and with such a mercenary object in view it is likely that he will care whether the duties of the office are attended to or not?

We know Mr. Long will make a good officer, then why experiment

with such characters as Watt?

Lord Frederick Cavendish, Chief

Secretary of Ireland and Sir Thomas

Henry Burke, Under Secretary, were brutally assassinated in the public park at Dublin, late Saturday afternoon. Lord Cavendish was sworn in at one o'clock Saturday and assassinated at 7. After tea he left his residence to take a walk with Under

Secretary Burke. The night was clear and bright. A few minutes later both Cavendish and Burke were found lying dead, fearfully stabbed and gashed. They were in the main roadway almost under the shadow of the Vice Regal Lodge. There is no clue whatever to the assassins. A couple of gentlemen who were riding

THE

Trigg grand jury returned 100

indictments.

Martin Bijur a noted lawyer of Louisville, died last week.

Incendiaries attempted to burn the Court house at Franklin last week.

The News, a new Greenback paper,

has made its appearance at Hawesville.

Joshua Wheeler, the oldest citizen of Barren county, died last week aged

95 years.

Col. H. M. McCarty, late of the Elizabethtown News is going to start a paper at Paducah.

Abraham Campbell, aged 82, fell into the fire in Shelby county, and was burned to death.

Col. Frank Wolford has announced himself a candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

The result of Barnes' meetings in Georgetown was 877 confessions and 148 announcements.

Mrs. R. N. Boyd had her clothing

catch fire and she was burned to death in Fleming county.

A stout able bodied tramp was sold for va. range in Richmond last week.

He brought $1.00 for one year.

The Mayfield Democrat says there were five or six cases of small-pox in Paducah last week, all negroes.

The Princeton Banner favors Hon.

W. J. Stone, of Lyon, for Congress

and thinks he could beat Oscar Turner.

The Allenville Gazette says there is a colored woman in that town 107

years old, who is the mother of 17

children and the grand-mother of over

100. She is as hale and hearty as if not more than sixty.

The Paducah News says the Democrats of the First District never scratched tickets and will support

Henry.

Ben McIntosh playfully pulled

the trigger of an unloaded (1) pistol,

at Mt. Sterling, and killed, Miss

Baker.

Jos. M. Davidson and Jno. W.

Kentall—brothers-in-law are candidates for Congress in the Ninth District, says the Louisville Post.

A vein of oil has been struck near Chattanooga equal in quality to the best Pennsylvania oil. The stream is a small one and flows from a crevice

in a rock.

The Louisville Post is in error in supposing Hopkinsville has a case of small-pox. The case mentioned was at Clarksville Tenn. We have had none.

The Stanford Journal says a negro who was caught stealing, took a whipping on his bare back in preference to going to jail. He took 40

lashes and blood was drawn.

A fellow named Ahsaph, (pronounced O'Shaw) alias Dugan, was found at Lexington, Hancock Co.,

who is wanted at various places in the State for bigamy, theft etc. He made his escape.

A tramp named Solomon Jackson succeeded near Harrodsburg. His wife and two small children were with him who thought he was joking when he said he was going to shoot himself.

Mrs. Nellie Newton, wife of L. H.

Newton, a freight engineer, at Louisville, poisoned her adopted child and herself. She was driven to the deed by despair at the prospect of having to part with the child, as its father was going to marry and take it away.

The child Elmer Sinsler, aged 4 years,

died, but the woman was discovered and resuscitated. The affair will doubtless assume a criminal color if the woman recovers.

SOCIALITIES.

Mr. W. E. Foulks visited Allensville last week.

Mr. Henry Frankel, of Princeton, was in town last week.

Mr. Thos. Hovd, Sheriff of Trigg county, was in town Friday.

Mr. J. H. Winfree is in Cincinnati this week.

"Honest John" Mayson has gone to Cincinnati to purchase goods.

Mrs. Peacher, of Peacher's Mill, Tenn., visited Mrs. Rosell, last week.

Mr. J. C. Catlett, a popular citizen of West Fork was in the city Thursday.

Miss Effie Payne is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Trice, of Pembroke.

Mrs. Nellie O. Hester, of Lafayette, is visiting Mrs. Hester at the Central Hotel.

Mr. W. R. Covington, a widely known stock dealer, of Warren Co., was in the city last week.

Judge Jas. H. Bowden paid us a pleasant call while he was in the city last week.

Dr. B. W. Stone attended the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar at Covington last week.

Mr. Joe W. Moore and Miss Della Wilson, of Wallousa, were among the visitors to the city last week.

Mr. W. R. Howell was in the city last week on professional business. He is a member of the Paducah bar, who formerly lived in Trigg county.

Messrs Geo. W. Elgin and Robt. McKee of this county, returned Saturday from the West where they had been sojourning for several weeks.

Messrs. Wm. Draper and Allen G. Hall, accompanied by Misses Lizzie Hall and Sallie Cheatham, all of Lafayette, were in the city Thursday and attended the minstrel show.

Mrs. Lucinda Darden and her daughter, Miss Clinie, of Robertson county, Tenn., have moved to this city and will live with the family of Mr. Rosell, on Maple street.

Mr. H. H. Lundefman, a popular and substantial farmer of Trenton, was in the city last week selling his tobacco. As an evidence that he knows a good thing when he sees it, he has taken two copies of the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN for the last three years. He called upon us while in the city.

Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie and wife returned home from Washington about two weeks since. Mr. McKenzie stopped in this city a day or two ago last week on his way back to Washington. His health is now quite good and if it continues so he will be a candidate for re-election and the man who can beat him has not yet been found.

The following society item, clipped from the Granada (Miss.), Sentinel, refers to a young lady well known in Hopkinsville society.

Miss Mary Gage left last Thursday afternoon for Louisville, Mississippi. She is one of our most popular young ladies, and her numerous friends wish her a pleasant trip and safe return. Miss Mary will be absent for some time, and we hope her stay in Louisville may be as enjoyable as she anticipates.

"United Volunteers."

The "United Volunteers" gave an entertainment at Mozart Hall last Tuesday night, which was in some respects the most satisfactory local entertainment ever given in the city. The singing was all good. Mr. Cabanis' "Oscar Dear," brought down the house. The play, "Sweetheart," by Messrs. Clarke and Rutz, and Misses Westfall and Waller, was presented better than any piece ever rendered in the city by amateurs. The broom drill, by a company of young ladies was a new and novel feature, which was followed by a burlesque mop drill by young men attired in female apparel. The receipts of the evening were a little over $100. An additional $20 was taken in at a matinee the following afternoon, given for the children. The net proceeds of the two entertainments amounted to $75, which will be donated to the Public School Library fund.

Seriously Stabbed.

A cutting affair took place on the premises of Mr. Polk Canster one night last week. Jordan Bivens stabbed Ed Coleman in the side inflicting a serious but not necessarily fatal wound. They were both colored and the trouble was about a woman. Bivens it seems was parted from his wife and on the night in question visited her and learned that Coleman was in the house with the woman. He waited on the outside and when the latter came out stabbed him in the back. Dr. Andrew Seargent dressed the wound and the chances are for recovery. Bivens was arrested and his trial set for next Friday.

HERE AND THERE.

W. F. Patton, Life Insurance.

J. H. Winfree & Co., McCormick Machines and Plows

Strawberries are on the market.

The New, our independent neighbor, will support Long for Jailer.

Two burials took place in the Cemetery last Thursday afternoon.

We have arranged to have the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN office lighted by gas.

Some complaint is heard that wheat was blown down by the wind last week.

The Tobacco Leaf says there have been no new cases of small-pox in Clarksville and that the danger is over.

A call was made upon Mr. R. W. Henry in the New Era of last week to become a candidate for county attorney.

Evergreen Lodge, No. 33, K. of P. has admitted eleven new members this year. Two others have taken one degree. There are now nearly 100 Knights in good standing.

Mr. L. W. Means got up a lot of hams a few days since and gave the Princeton road a thorough working as far as the forks of the road. It has been a very bad road for a long time and the working was very much needed.

Dobbin Campbell, one of Gov. Blackburn's pardoned convicts, in company with another negro stole two head of cattle from Maj. John P. Campbell last week and sold them to Uncle, the butcher, for $35. Ratcliffe was arrested but Campbell is still at large.

About three weeks ago a man named Wells stole a mule from Mr. Brame near Casey. Wells was captured a few days since and tried before an examining court and held over till Circuit Court under a bond of $100. Being unable to give this he was sent to jail.

The South Kentuckian will be published daily during the meeting of the General Association May, 24, 25, 26 and 27. The daily will be a 24 column sheet and will be distributed gratuitously. It will be an excellent advertising medium as the city will be crowded with visitors.

The city has purchased a new bell for the fire department. It arrived last week and is a very large one. It weighs 800 pounds and can be heard for miles. It will cost when erected $250 and it supplies a long felt need, as one of the church bells has been used heretofore to give fire alarms.

The name of the Chess-Carley Gas Company has been changed to the Southern Gas Company. The company have secured so many more consumers here than they expected that they will have to increase the capacity of their works. They calculate to turn on the gas about the 1st of June.

Pedee Edmundson recently resigned his position as superintendent of Mr. Metcalfe's news depot, to accept the position of office man of the telephone exchange. He has acquainted himself with the workings of the telephone lines and is now prepared to keep them in good order, oil the machines and put up new ones. He is assisted in the office work by Joe Dick Higgins.

Dr. Dunham an itinerant lecturer delivered a free lecture at the City Court room Wednesday evening. Few persons were present when he began but the room soon became filled, when it got out that the speaker was making one of the most interesting, interesting and humorous lectures ever heard in the city. His subject was "Imagination, or the man of nerve." He spoke for over an hour and in the last fifteen minutes of his speech briefly called attention to Warner's safe remedies.

The Big 4 Minstrel show at Mozart Hall was without doubt the best minstrel performance we have ever seen in the city. There was nothing indelicate about it at all and many ladies were in attendance. The jokes and gags were mostly new, the music, both vocal and instrumental was excellent and the burlesques were simply "immense." The farce "Practical Jokes," was something original and very laughable. The gross receipts of the evening amounted to $115, which was much more than an average house.

The Baptist Sunday School picnic at the Fair grounds was a very pleasant affair. Speeches were made by Messrs. Jno. O. Rust and J. W. Downer which were appropriate to the occasion. We had intended to attend, but unforeseen circumstances debarred us the pleasure and we were forced to remain a prisoner in our office all day, while the young people were having a happy time. We were with them in heart and spirit and deeply regretted our inability to attend.

On last Saturday morning while old Uncle Johnnie Montgomery was working some flowers in the yard of Mr. E. P. Campbell, he had occasion to strike at a vicious dog belonging to Mr. Campbell, which immediately sprang for Uncle Johnnie's throat, and succeeded in inflicting a severe wound thereon. He choked him off, and the dog again seized him by the right arm. In the scuffle the dog loosened his hold upon the right and fastened his teeth in the left. He finally succeeded in choking him off, but not until he had crippled Uncle Johnnie up pretty badly. It will be some time before he will fully recover from his wounds.

Several couples of young ladies and gentlemen came down from Elkton Saturday and visited the Asylum. The party consisted of Mr. Pat Morris and Miss Belle Lewis; Mr. Thad Coleman and Miss Georgia Deeds; Mr. Chas. Cornelius and Miss Mattie Chestnut; Mr. Jas. Edwards and Miss Ida Bradshaw and Mr. Sam Chesnut and Miss Helen Trabe. They made a gay party and left for Elkton about 4 o'clock. From the indications we would judge that several of the pairs had love affairs on hand. The crowd halted in the street and the young ladies were treated to soda water and lemonade while the boys were called around the corner, one at a time, "to see a man." We noticed one or two ex-Todd county boys who have sweethearts in Elkton, making inquiries of the crowd.

Rev. E. C. Powell, of Virginia, has been called to the pastorate of the Christian Church. He is quite youthful but possesses both ability and eloquence of a high order. He preached two sermons Sunday and made a very favorable impression upon all who heard him. He is a nephew of Rev. R. C. Cave and resembles him very much in manner, tone and style of delivery.

The examination of applicants for teachers' positions in the Public School took place last Friday and Saturday. Nine young ladies were examined. The names of the successful ones have not yet been announced.

The Al Clark Club will take an excursion to Pilot Rock next Friday. About fifteen couples of young people will go and a fine time is expected.

A basket meeting was held at West Union church Sunday for the purpose of organizing a Sunday school. A good many persons from the city attended.

A postal card has been sent to the post-mistress at this place, by W. T. Lewis, of Louisville, Miss., inquiring for information concerning the heirs of Zachariah and Mary Ray.

There will be services at the Catholic church every evening this week, conducted by Rev. Father Hayes.

DIED.

PEAY:—At his home in Pembroke, this county, Tuesday, May 2nd, 1882, Rev. D. D. Peay, formerly of Henderson, Ky. He was for some years pastor of the Baptist church in Henderson and resigned his pastorate to accept the position of Principal of Henderson Public Schools. He was compelled to resign this position also on account of ill-health. He traveled a good deal and some months ago accepted the pastorate of Bethel church at Pensacola. His health again became bad and he continued to grow worse until he died last week. He was a young man, popular as a minister and universally esteemed as a man. He leaves a wife and small family. He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity and was buried by the Masons at Henderson.

DURRITT:—At the residence of her father, Mr. Richard Durritt, in this city, May 4, Miss Minnie C. Durritt.

ARMSTRONG:—In Nashville, Tenn. May 4, Mr. Geo. L. Armstrong, of this city. His body was brought to this place for interment.

MYERS:—At the residence of her husband, Jno. H. Myers, Sunday, May 7th, at 7 o'clock P. M., Mrs. Mary Myers, of consumption. Her husband and relatives have our sympathies in their hour of bereavement.

Mr. Peay Declines.

Home, May, 3rd 1882.
Harry Garner, E. M. Flack, R. Y. Pendleton, J. M. Avant and others: Gentlemen: I feel grateful for the good opinion of me contained in your call to become a candidate for County Judge, and feel that it is your partiality, rather than my merit, which leads you to honor me thus. I regret very much to be compelled to refuse to accede to your request, and hope sincerely you will do me the credit to believe that I am actuated in so doing by no factious opposition, or disregard for the wishes of friends, whose opinions are dear to me, but by a higher duty, which I believe I owe to my home interests and the true welfare of my children.
Very Respectfully Yours,
AUSTIN PEAY.

A column of Mexican troops under Gen. Garza met the fleeing Apaches near Santa Fe last week, and in a hot battle killed 78 and captured 33. Forsythe is still in pursuit.

Metcalfe & Bro.

To The Farmers OF Christian And Trigg COUNTIES:

It is our purpose to give the farmers who contemplate buying a Binder an opportunity to determine by actual comparison which is the best self-Binder offered for sale, and to do this effectually they should see the different Machines at work. We therefore offer to put the Walter A. Wood Twine Self-Binder in the field against any other Binder offered for sale on this market, the farmer agreeing to take and pay for the one that, in his judgment, does the best work. We make this proposition in good faith, and as long as we have machines on hand we are prepared to enter the field on these terms. We have no agents in the country but will always be pleased to see the farmers at our house in Hopkinsville and show them our machines. Respectfully, Cowan, Huggins & McKee.

"Girls are full of love." Yes, but we never saw one so full that she could make room for several plates of ice-cream. — [State Journal.]

Correspondence that explains it. "Dear Father: Send me an X. You son." "My Dear Son: I am not so X-sandwich. Your Father." — [This and That.]

A Boston fashion writer says that a woman's character is shown by her costume. It is true, it is pretty hard on widows, who generally dress in black. — [Sunday Argus.]

They have a new game in Indiana. A man who can hold an egg in either hand and jump five feet without breaking the egg by involuntary squeezing wins the bet. — [Elizabethtown News.]

Sixty days from today is Gulliver's appointment to appear on the platform in Washington. It will be his farewell engagement and will be good news to many. — [Bowling Green Democrat.]

Cul. McHenry considers himself, he says, the entering wedge of a great movement. He will find instead that he is an old woolen plug, and he will bounce clear out of the log in August. — [Mulhensberg Echo.]

A countryman came to town yesterday and heard for the first time that there was a "buckshot shop" in the city. He at once started out in search of it, saying he wanted to make a state contract with the proprietor. — [Owensboro Messenger.]

An old man with a head as destitute of hair as a watermelon entered a drug store and told the clerk he wanted a bottle of hair restorer. "What kind of hair restorer do you prefer?" I reckon I'll have to take a bottle of red hair restorer. That was the color of my hair when I was a boy. — [Henderson Reporter.]

According to a Buffalo paper, it is customary for young ladies of that city to ask their young gentlemen admirers for gifts of gold dollars bearing their (the gentlemen's) monograms, which are then used for dress buttons. The scheme is said to be very popular with the ladies, while the boys regard it with disfavor. Buffalo girls should remember that the cost of each gold dollar thus monogrammed is the price of about six ice creams. — [Sunday Argus.]

The Newer Arithmetic.

A bank has $78,420 in its vaults. The cashier gets away with $60,882, and the bank settles with him for two-thirds. How much is the bank ahead, and what will the poor cashier do if next winter happens to be a hard one?

A house painter consumes forty-five minutes in painting his pipe, fifty-five minutes in painting his stove, twenty-two minutes in painting a kitchen sink, thirty-six minutes in painting a door, and twenty minutes in painting a window. How much time did he lose in painting his employer's house?

A boy who is sent on an errand stops to watch three dogs, play marbles with four boys, climbs two shade trees, takes a short ride on a velocipede, makes up faces at three girls, and sits on a lumber pile for fifteen minutes to help another boy learn to smoke. What did he get when he got home, and how long did it take him to make his mother believe that he had come in two minutes ahead of chain lightning?

A certain grocer, whose scales only weigh fifteen ounces to the pound, sells 320 pounds of various goods every twelve hours. Find what he gains weekly, and after what he figured it up do your trading with some other house.

A lady desires to divide six sunflowers among five girls so that each girl can wear one to the party. How can she do it without cutting one of the girls in two?

At one of Eli Perkins' lectures in Ohio in a hall seating 820 people one-third of the seats were jammed full of enthusiastic admirers. Find the number of seats which didn't admire worth a cent, also explain how far Eli traveled by Post & Walker's lines next day.

A dog starts out to overtake a cat. She has a seventy feet the start and knows that he means business. At the end of every foot she slips back two inches and gains four inches. How far must he go to overtake her and hush her yowls forever?

Three sticks of stove-wood weighing five and a half pounds bend a boy's back four inches out of plumb. How many additional sticks will it take to make his chin touch his knees?

A woman calls at thirteen different dry goods stores, walks a distance of three miles, enters three millinery shops, waits before seven shop windows, calls upon two jewelers, and takes the car for home calculating to freeze the human hyena who doesn't vacate his seat for her the instant she gets her nose inside the door. Find how many —? Come to think of it, you've found it all when she drops down without a "thank you."

A Valuable Addition.

SHORT FELLOWS.

A Great Scientist Dead.

During the last twenty years the name of Charles R. Darwin has become very familiar to the reading world as the proponent of the evolutionary theory of life, but he has distinguished himself in other paths of science, and his death, which occurred yesterday, will leave a deeply regretted vacancy in the ranks of scientific investigators of the mystery of animate and inanimate things.

Charles R. Darwin was a son of the distinguished Dr. Erasmus Darwin, and was born at Shrewsbury, Eng., Dec. 12, 1809. He studied at Edinburgh and at Cambridge, where he took his degree in 1831. He accompanied the British exploring expedition around the world as naturalist, and was absent five years (1831-36), during which he visited South America, the Pacific Islands, Australia, New Zealand and other countries, and secured a large amount of valuable scientific material, which he gave to the world in three volumes in 1839. He was elected a fellow of the Royal Society in 1834, and before 1843 published his works on coral reefs, geology of volcanic islands and of South America and the zoology of the expedition, and continued writing scientific papers on various subjects.

In 1859 he published his celebrated work on "The Origin of Species by means of Natural Selection," which has been translated in all European languages, and has drawn forth a vast amount of close criticism, hostile and favorable. His doctrine of continuous development, as opposed to separate creation of species has been widely accepted, even by some distinguished theologians who once opposed it. In 1871 his "Descent of Man, and Selection in Relation to Sex," appeared and created a greater sensation than his "Origin of Species." His scientific papers are very numerous, but his fame rests chiefly upon the boldness of his theories with regard to man's origin. Darwin was overwhelmed with medals and other honors from all the scientific societies of the world.

With reference to his ontological views, he is not the corporeal of the doctrine announced. He has only enlarged upon the Greek and Oriental philosophers who held to the doctrine of evolution, and traces of his theories may be found far back in the realm of human thought. His doctrine of descent is simply stated, but not proven by any means. Earnest Heckel has more ambitiously traced man to the sea-squid and a "primitive slime" alleged to exist far down in the ocean—a position not more convincing than Darwin's ascription of dignity to the ape as man's ancestor.

To natural science Darwin has added treasures of interesting information, and his geological researches are especially valuable. His information was simply stupendous, and the mental labor expended in his researches was vast. He had the satisfaction of knowing, before he died, that he had established a school of thinkers composed of some of the brightest minds in the scientific world. — [Courier Journal.]

A feature of the killing of Jesse James was the use of the assassination method by one of his "pals" for purely mercenary purposes. The Governor of Missouri offered a reward for the body of Jesse James, dead or alive, but it is very evident, whatever may be said of the difficulty of capturing James through the agencies of the law, that the manner of his taking or killing is most reprehensible, and is not calculated to secure either respect for or enforcement of the laws. The man Ford should be tried for murder, and, if justice is done, he will be hanged. No State in the Union ought to be so powerless, so terrorized by outlaws, that the latter can only be taken by bribing their companions to sneak up behind their backs and assassinate them. It is certainly a bad state of affairs when this is the case, and since this same disgraceful lawlessness pervades the country, we are certainly lapsing into the condition of Europe from the Fifth to the Twelfth century rather than advancing in civilization. — [Courier Journal.]

Don't Do It!

Don't seek the temporary feeling of health and strength resulting from the use of beer and ale or other malt and alcoholic compounds. The after effects make you feel worse than before. Permanent health is sure to be found in that best of all iron preparations, that friend to temperance and long life known as Brown's Iron Bitters.

Two Russian gentlemen are making a tour of steamboat cities on the Western rivers in order to procure a report on the merits of American steamboat architecture and the advisability of introducing American patterns on Russian rivers. They left Pittsburgh Friday for Cincinnati, St. Louis and New Orleans. Several contracts for Russian steamers have been taken at Pittsburgh, and Engineer Geo. Wilson, of that city, will leave for Russia to superintend the placing of Pittsburgh machinery on a new Russian steamer.

Then and Now.

(Union 1894.)

You fellows, of the low and baser sort, who go twining of justice, can see from the unburned documents how such cattle fared in ancient times, when primitive Quakerism held rule in the good city of "Brotherly Love." Here are some verbatim copies of presentations returned into court near a hundred years ago, by a Philadelphia grand jury:

"We, the Grand Jury for the City of Philadelphia, do present John Sattell for passing of bad counterfeit coins to Anne Simes, on ye 2nd of ye First Mo. last past in her husband's house, & also finding the metal in his pocket, which we think the Money was made withall."

ABRAHAM HOPKINS foreman."

ANOTHER.

"We, ye Grand Jury of ye City of Philadelphia, present Sarah Sime, ye wife of John Sime of this city, for being dressed in man's clothes, contrary to the nature of her sex, and in such disguise walked through the streets of this city, & from house to house, on or about the 26th of the 10th Mo. to the great disturbance of ye well-minded persons, & incouraging of vice in this place; for this & other like enormities we pray this honorable Bench to suppress."

ABRAHAM HOPKINS foreman."

JUST ONE OTHER.

We, ye Grand Jury for ye City of Philadelphia, present John Smith, living in Strawberry Alley this City, for being masked or disguised in woman's apparel, walking openly through the streets from house to house, on or about ye 26th of ye 10 Mo. last past, it being against ye Law of God, ye Law of this province and ye Law of nature, to the great Disturbance of peaceable minds, & propagating ye throne of wickedness amongst us."

ABRAHAM HOPKINS foreman."

It is to be presumed, as these old records show no indictments against Susan B. Anthony, Jane Swisshelm and Dr. Mary Walker, that in their youthful days these did not indulge in wearing man's "apparel," or if they did, they discreetly gave ye straight forward, single-minded Philadelphia grand jury a wide berth.

The indictment for "passing of bad counterfeit coins" should have been quashed on demurrer—a bad counterfeit is no counterfeit—it deceives no one. It is a good counterfeit that does the business. Such as are perpetuated by ye hoodlums who fill the holes in perforated silver coin (now heavily discounted by the custom of ye bankers), with lead or other substance, and thereby deceive and take in ye unwary.

The Penalties of Greatness.

General Sherman wept the other day, after hearing "Marching Through Georgia" played at a banquet. His neighbor, General Grant, asked him: "Wherefore dost thou weep?" The General answered:

"I never was so full sorry that I marched through Georgia as I have been in the last five years. Georgia be damned. The people are good enough, but I'm listening to that tune for the 3,455,876th time. How would you like, 'Ulysses,' he continued, 'to hear that infernal melody over 3,000,000 times? They have played it to me from Maine to Texas, and from Florida to Toronto,' and he wept afresh.

But General Grant quietly patted the hero on the shoulder and said: "Sherman, it is only one of the penalties of greatness. I suffer worse than you do—I've had 6,000,000 cigars given to me because people think I like to smoke, 824 bull pups, and more horses than I can count, Sherman," continued the General, "when I see a horse, a cigar or a bull pup, I feel just as badly as you do, but I never give way to my feelings—I sell 'em."

"Yes," answered Sherman between his sobs, "you can sell cigars, bull pups, and horses, but I can't sell that d—d time for five cents." — [New Orleans Times.]

Mr. F. G. Delaney, of Norfolk, Va., writes: "It gives me great pleasure to experience once more that glorious good feeling of perfect health. I was buried in despair, my back constantly pained me, and from head to foot I felt thoroughly ill. I could not walk across the yard without fatigue. Nothing late agreed with me. Doctors could do me no good. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters. They have given me perfect health and strength."

The Wise Editor.

A Western editor offered a prize of $50 and a year subscription for the best written proposal or marriage from a lady. He picked out a nice proposal from a beautiful and wealthy widow, answered it accepting the proposal, and with the threat of a breach of promise suit, actually captured her. Editors may not acquire wealth by writing twenty-three hours a day, but when their genius takes the right shot, they procure the persimmons. — [Boomerang.]

"Isn't the moon beautiful this evening?" said Alonzo, as he smuggled his arm just as close upon her as he could. "Y—Yes, but I know another moon that is perfectly ecstatic in its love-loveliness." Do you? What moon is that, ducky?" "It's the honey-moon, Alonzo, and don't you think it is about time to have one? The cards are out."

A liverman thinks the great want of the day is young men with three arms. He vaguely says it would lessen the number of sleighing accidents.

"Does your poultry pay?" asked a stranger of a city dealer. "Of course," was the reply, even the little chickens sell out."

"I thought you took an interest in my wife," said William. "No, sir," replied Susan, "only in your farewell."

The reason why a piano was not saved at a recent fire was because none of the firemen could play on it.

Perilous Ascent of the Natural Bridge.

Mrs. J. M. McTeer who died at her home in Wytheville, Va., on Monday last, was the widow of Col. Piper, who led a national fame through his perilous feat of climbing the natural bridge, in Rockbridge county, while a student at Washington College (now Washington and Lee University). During the summer of 1818 he and three other students obtained permission of the President to spend a day from the college, and they went about twelve miles to the bridge. As soon as they arrived, in youthful glee they commenced the ascent of the precipitous sides of the bridge, and cut figures and names upon the stone.

Young Piper, amid the shouts and hurrahs of his companions, was the first to reach the top of the bridge, and he stood for some time looking downward, to see that return was impossible, since the knife that had carried him so far was worn nearly to the handle. Each moment was one of intense suspense to his companions, who from below watched for and expected his destruction at any time. Finally he worked a few feet higher, until the knife was useless, and he hung seemingly on the face of the precipice. In that position, between hope and fear, he lived what seemed years, until rescue came from above in the shape of a ladder and he was drawn up to the top of the bridge, where he fainted from exhaustion.

What Everybody Wants.

It is reliable medicine that never does any harm and that cures all diseases by keeping the stomach in order, the bowels regular and the kidneys, and liver active. Such a medicine is Parker's Ginger Tonic. It relieves every case, and has cured thousands. See other column.
